

The Good Samaritan

Luke 10:30-35

A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho,
and fell into the hands of robbers, who stripped him, beat him, and went away,
leaving him half dead.

Now by chance a priest was going down that road, and when he saw him,
he passed by on the other side.

So likewise a Levite, when he came to the place and saw him,
passed by on the other side.

But a Samaritan while travelling came near him, and when he saw him,
he was moved with compassion.

He went to him and bandaged his wounds, having poured oil and wine on them.
Then he put him on his own animal, brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

The next day he took out two denarii, gave them to the innkeeper, and said,
“Take care of him; and when I come back, I will repay you whatever more you spend.”

The Parable of the Good Samaritan

"A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho,
and fell into the hands of robbers, who stripped him, beat him, and went away,
leaving him half dead.

Now by chance a priest was going down that road,
and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side.

So likewise a Levite, when he came to the place and saw him, passed by on the other side.

But a Samaritan while traveling came near him,
and when he saw him, he was moved with pity
and he went to him and bandaged his wounds,
having poured oil and wine on them
and he put him on his own animal, brought him to an inn,
and took care of him.

The next day he took out two denarii, gave them to the innkeeper, and said, 'Take care of him.

And when I come back, I will repay you whatever more you spend.'"
